GOOD SCOUTS

Businessmen, congressman honored for their service in support of scouting

Two local business leaders and the city's congressman were honored at Mayor Thomas Koch's annual breakfast at the Granite Links Golf Club on Monday.

Rob Hale, CEO of Granite Telecommunications, and Stephen Jay

Wessling, CEO of Wessling Architects, received Good Scout awards from the Scouts' Boston Minuteman Council. A special presentation was made to U.S. Rep. Stephen Lynch, D-Boston, who represents Quincy and much of the South Shore.

The Good Scout awards annually recognize two community members for their service in support of scouting.

Previous recipients include Norfolk County Sheriff Michael Bellotti, former state Treasurer and Quincy City Councilor Timothy Cahill and state Sen. John Keenan.
