The Boston Business Journal honored the state's most philanthropic companies during the 12th annual Corporate Citizenship Awards ceremony Thursday night with a celebration attended by 450 guests at Fenway Park.

The 94 companies that were honored by the BBJ each met the threshold of at least $100,000 in philanthropic support of Massachusetts nonprofits in 2016. They combined for an approximately $273 million in charitable giving last year, while the top 10 companies on the BBJ list alone contributed over $140.3 million of that total.
