

The Patriot Ledger

Weekends best

It's Granite Day in Quincy. Granite Telecommunications will host the 11th annual community event from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday

File photo
Employees of Granite Telecommunications serve up food at last year's event.

Posted Jun. 7, 2014 @ 9:00 am

OUTDOOR FUN

- It's Granite Day in Quincy. Granite Telecommunications will host the 11th annual community event from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday to support the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. There'll be food, spin art, face painting, airbrush tattoos, rides, crafts, a dunk tank, games, music and other family-friendly entertainment. It's free. 100 Newport Ave. Extension, Quincy. <http://www.granitenet.com/GraniteCares>.

- The Cambridge River Festival takes place away from the water this year, in Central Square between River and Prospect streets and Central Avenue. It's from noon to 6 p.m. Saturday. Enjoy music performances, dance, art demonstrations, family art-making activities and specialty food purveyors, crafters and artisans. 617-349-4380, <http://www.cambridgema.gov/arts/Programs/riverfestival.aspx>.

- New England Aquarium observes World Oceans Day from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, with sustainable seafood cooking demonstrations, scavenger hunts, exhibits, food and more. It's free. Central Wharf, Boston. www.neaq.org.

CITY STAGES

- The Vakhtangov State Academic Theatre of Russia presents a theatrical adaptation of Alexander Pushkin's novel "Eugene Onegin" at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Emerson Cutler Majestic Theater. The production features 45 actors and is performed in Russian with English subtitles. Tickets are $35-$125. 219 Tremont St., Boston. 617-824-8400, www.artsemerson.org.

- At The Dance Complex in Cambridge, "The Memory Suite" is performed by John J. Zullo's Zullo/Raw Movement repertory, including the Boston premieres of "this Exquisite diversion/mysterious Skin" and "project Xiii," which will include guest performers from the Boston area. Peter DiMuro/Public Displays of Motion will also share new work as the guest company at the concert. Shows are at 8 p.m. Saturday and 6 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $20. 536 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge. 617-547-9363, www.dancecomplex.org.